FOR THE KIDS... Donna Weiss and her father Juergen Doebler are completing their month of riding in the Great Cycle Challenge to fight kid's cancer.

Donna Weiss, along with her father Juergen Doebler, have undertaken the Great Cycle Challenge this month, riding 1000km and raising more than $1500 to help fight kid's cancer.

As well as saying, "it has been a lot of fun," Donna said it has been a touching experience being involved with the online community and reading stories of others involved in the challenge and those that it supports.

She said they have been both inspirational and motivational during the month.

The pair gets out to ride whenever they can, Donna said their longest trip was to Port Broughton and back all in one day on their mountain bikes.

"I am doing it because cancer is a cause that is close to the heart," she said.

Enjoying the challenge together, Donna and her 70-year-old father played a part in the incredible $1.7 million being raised so far through this Australian-wide event.
