If you're heading to the Sydney Royal Easter Show with a child who's too small for some of the rides and you want to do more than hang out at the animal pavilion all day (which is still a lot of fun!) then we have some activities they will LOVE!

Be A Scientist For A Day
 Is your child a budding scientist?

The Children's Medical Research Institute has a stand where the kids can put on a lab coat and take a seat in one of the replica labs to undertake research. They will get to test their skill and precision using pipettes and water to imitate a real Lab scenario for scientists.
